Article XI

I. Work Load

- A. Intent. The Bronson School of Nursing faculty/FS, in pursuit of excellence in education, research, and practice, recommend that workloads of the School be viewed as encompassing many professional duties and responsibilities, including but not limited to:
1. Teaching and/or providing instructional support in a variety of manners and settings;
  2. Serving on committees (department, college, university);
  3. Supervising nursing practice experiences for students;
  4. Coordinating nursing courses or levels;
  5. Advising and mentoring students;
  6. Directing and engaging in research, publication, and other scholarly activities;
  7. Fulfilling ongoing departmental needs of both a maintenance and developmental nature;
  8. Supporting the proper and efficient functioning of the college and university as a whole by performing committee work, by providing consultation to the University and its communities, and by participation in a variety of other relevant activities; and
  9. Contributing to the operations of professional nursing associations/accrediting bodies at the international, national, state, and regional levels.

B. The Bronson School of Nursing faculty/FS recommend the following principles be used in determining workload:

1. For bargaining unit faculty who are not faculty specialists, the maximum fulltime faculty workload shall be twenty-four (24) credit hours of regularly scheduled courses in any one (1) academic or alternate-academic year, or six (6) credit hours in the Summer I or Summer II sessions. It shall be possible, by mutual agreement, to balance out fewer than twelve (12) credit hours (or equivalent work assignment) in one semester with more than twelve (12) credit hours (or equivalent work assignment) in another semester (Article 42.4). For faculty specialists, the maximum full-time workload shall conform to the provisions of Article 20, Faculty Specialist, of thirty (30) credit hours per academic or alternate-academic year.
2. The Michigan Board of Nursing requires a ratio of no less than 1 faculty/FS to 10 pre-professional students when supervising students in a clinical setting.
3. Faculty/FS supervisory responsibilities of students in nursing practice include direct and indirect supervision of client care.
4. The ratio of faculty/FS in a laboratory/skills clinical section of a course will be no less than 1 faculty/FS to 15 pre-professional students.
5. Responsibilities for supportive assignments such as advising, department, College, and University work shall be assumed by individual faculty/FS members. The Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement provides that each faculty/FS member may be assigned up to 20 advisees, without workload adjustment (Article 42.9.1).

6. A faculty/FS member who perceives that her/his workload exceeds the recommended parameters set forth in this article shall have the right to appeal. The procedure of appeal is stated in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 42.10).
7. Workload assignments should be made in advance of the submission of the course schedule of classes to allow discussion between the faculty/FS and the Director.
8. Additional Professional Responsibilities. Additionally, it is recommended that faculty/FS members who support the proper and efficient functioning of professional societies as a whole in leadership roles, editorial work, conference organization, or board work may be considered for workload adjustments by the Director.
9. Faculty/FS who are engaged in scholarly activities as defined in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 42.5) may be considered for workload adjustments by the Director.
10. WMU Bronson School of Nursing Workload Calculation Proposals (Fall 2006):
  - A. Didactic (theory) credits would be assigned workload credits in a 1:1 ratio for all courses taught within the School of Nursing.
  - B. Clinical (practice) credits would be assigned workload credits as allocated to the course with a multiplier of 2.0. For example, a course with 3 credits of clinical would equal 3 credits X 2.0 for 6 workload credits. In addition, section sizes need to be considered based on the level of student.

C. Other

- a. Writing intensive courses that meet university guidelines will be given 1.5 credit per section of didactic (e.g. a total of 4.5 credits for a 3 credit course).
- b. Scholarly activity – credits allocated for traditional tenure/tenure track faculty in negotiation with the director based upon evidence of measurable progress in a program of scholarship.
- c. Course preparation – 1 credit for first time teaching of any course
- d. Course development – credits allocated in negotiation with director based on complexity of course (general formula is 1 credit per course)
- e. Course coordination – 1 credit per course (not per section of a course) with multiple labs/clinical sections
- f. Clinical coordination – 1 credit per course (for courses that include a clinical component). Additionally, clinical coordinators who are required to orient and supervise clinical faculty (adjunct or otherwise) who are new to their course may negotiate additional workload commensurate with the number of these faculty.

g. MSN Thesis/Project Committees

1. It is recommended that chairpersons be allocated 0.5 credit hour per student thesis/project per semester (typically 3 semesters duration per MSN thesis/project).
2. It is recommended that other committee members receive 0.5 credit hour per student thesis/project for the semester during which the thesis/project is defended.

h. Lee Honors College

1. It is recommended that chairpersons of Lee Honors College students' honors project/thesis be allocated 0.5 credit hour per student for the semester during which the thesis/project is defended.

i. PhD Committees

1. It is recommended that faculty serving as Chair of a dissertation committee be allocated 0.5 credit hour per student (typically 4 semesters).
2. It is recommended that other committee members receive 0.5 credit hour per student dissertation for the semester when the dissertation is defended.

- j. Honors Courses within School of Nursing
  - 1. It is recommended that a faculty member teaching an honors course shared with nursing students be allocated an additional 1.0 credit hour provided there is a minimum of 5 honors students enrolled in the course.

I. Equitable distribution of opportunities to teach Summer, and Extended University Programs

A. The following recommendations shall serve as a guide in determining faculty/FS teaching assignments in the summer sessions, as well as Extended University Programs:

1. Unit faculty/FS have preferences for teaching summer sessions as stated in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 41.1). Unit faculty/FS have priority over part-time or graduate assistants for up to 6 credit hours of summer teaching. Moreover, summer classes will be distributed equitably among unit faculty/FS as per the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement.
2. The program needs of the School shall be the primary consideration.
3. Teaching preferences of individual faculty/FS members as communicated in writing to the Director shall be the second consideration.
4. Summer and Extended University Programs will be reviewed by the appropriate School and College Committees in order to make recommendations to the Director.
5. Recommendations to the Director regarding specific courses and/or faculty/FS teaching assignments shall emanate from the course coordinator.

6. The final schedule of summer and extended university programs shall be presented to faculty/FS prior to its final submission for inclusion in the university's schedule of classes.
  7. Faculty/FS should be informed of their projected teaching assignments for the school year before the beginning of the academic year.
  8. Faculty/FS are limited to the number of EUP courses in addition to the regular workload as stipulated in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement.
- B. In order to insure equity among faculty/FS in the assignment of teaching responsibilities in summer, and extended university programs, the faculty/FS recommends that:
1. A systematic rotation of teaching assignments be instituted.
  2. Full time board appointed faculty/FS who did not work full-time in either the summer sessions of the preceding year and who were employed by WMU at that time shall be given first priority for appointment in the summer sessions.
