Haenicke Institute for Global Education
Study Abroad Scholarship for
WMU faculty-led programs

Need-based and merit scholarships now available for short-term study abroad programs taught by WMU faculty (Need-based up to $2,000; merit-based up to $1,000)*

Eligibility:

- Enrollment in a WMU degree-granting program; students who graduate before the start of study abroad course not eligible.
- All WMU students with a GPA of 3.0 or higher may be considered for merit-based awards on competitive basis.
- U.S. citizens or permanent residents may also apply for need-based awards, which are based on demonstrated financial need (FAFSA required) and expected family contribution (EFC).
- Admission and commitment to a short-term study abroad program taught by WMU faculty
- *Some exceptions apply to programs that do not entail air transportation and to those that WMU Study Abroad and the Haenicke Institute have made other financial arrangements and commitments.
