2000 Land Development Plan for the Parkview Campus
Construction of the Parkview Campus; 2001
The Mechanical Trades Building, later named the Brink Printing Building, was razed to make way for the Seelye Athletic Center. The WMU Physical Plant Building, formerly the Industrial Arts Building, is in the far right, center, of the photograph.
Construction of the building for the College of Engineering and Applied Sciences; 2002
Dr. Michael Atkins, Dean from 2002 to 2005, led the installation of CEAS on the Parkview Campus.
The Paper Coating Pilot Plant on the Parkview Campus was dedicated on October 11, 2002.
Far left, WMU VP for Development Bud Bender; third from left, CEAS Dean Michael Atkins; second from right, Professor Jim VanDePolder

Members of the WMU and Kalamazoo communities and Ford Motor Company celebrate the donation of a 2003 Ford Mustang to the Automotive Engineering program.
2003 ~ Parkview Campus ~ 2003
College of Engineering and Applied Sciences building, Paper Coating Pilot Plant, East and West Parking Decks, and Energy Resource Center
Dr. Timothy Greene, Dean of the College of Engineering and Applied Sciences from 2005-2009
The scenic retention pond on the south side of the College building was named after retired Dean Michael Atkins in 2005.
College of Engineering and Applied Sciences’ Icon and Parkview Campus bridge; 2005
Dr. Anthony Vizzini became Dean of the College of Engineering and Applied Sciences in 2009