WMU Student Food Pantry

The Project engages the entire campus community, encouraging faculty, staff, administrators, and fellow students to come together to help students in need. The Invisible Need Project is a multi-faceted initiative intended to serve students with unmet needs, while strengthening the culture of giving at WMU. WMU Food Pantry Information

In recent years, campus communities across the nation have discovered that there are large populations of students who go hungry. These include both non-traditional students, such as those with families, as well as independent students. Campus food banks have become a critical resource for students in need.

Since opening in September 2014, the WMU Food Pantry has served over 100 students and had well over 200 visits.
