What’s going on with DACA?

Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA), was implemented by executive action by former President Obama in 2012. The program permitted certain unauthorized immigrants, brought to the U.S. as children, work authorization and protections from deportation. President Trump terminated the program recently. In response, a panel of WMU professors will be presenting viewpoints about DACA from their respective disciplines.

Thursday, September 28th
7:00-8:30pm  157 Bernhard Center

Prof. Devin Schindler
WMU - Cooley Law School

Prof. Tim Ready
Sociology and Walker Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnic Relations

Prof. John Clark
Political Science

Prof. Susan Pozo
Global and International Studies and Economics