University of Paderborn, Germany

The University of Paderborn is a modern, comprehensive university of 14,000 students. It offers a variety of Business courses and a few Engineering courses (Computer Science) in English language as well as an excellent intensive German language program for international students. Business students participating in this program have an opportunity to take Negotiation Course taught by Dr. James Eckert, at the University of Paderborn each year as part of the HCoB summer I study abroad program. WMU students interested in this exchange program may be able to contact students from the host institution currently studying at WMU. Contact WMU Study Abroad program specialist for information.

Paderborn is a charming, medium-sized university town, whose name means "the source of the Pader River." The campus is a short bus ride away from the cobble-stoned roads and walkways of downtown. The city boasts many historically important buildings where visitors can observe a variety of architectural styles typical of the region. .
