BRONSON SCHOOL OF NURSING DEPARTMENT POLICY STATEMENTS (DPS)

It is the right, the responsibility, and the privilege of University faculties to participate in the governance of their departments. Fundamentally, what is desirable and intended by the Department Policy Statement is to ensure meaningful participation by department faculties and procedural regularity within the departments. It is understood that the ultimate power of decision-making resides with the administration. This Policy Statement is one means by which the faculty of this department make recommendations to Western.

Preamble

Professionals are vitally interested in conditions attendant to their positions; they possess the right to participate in decisions by making recommendations that affect them in execution of their professional responsibilities. *Faculty participation is imperative to create decisions that affect academic programs, mission outcomes and faculty productivity. Moreover, the sense of commitment that results from faculty participation is a precondition of continued professionalization and enables the Bronson School of Nursing, the College of Health and Human Services, and the University to utilize the knowledge, skills, beliefs, and experiences of each faculty member and to encourage creativity and productivity.

*Refer to Article 23 of Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement.

Accordingly, the purpose of the School Policy Statement is to set forth the policies, the structure and the operating procedures of the Western Michigan University Bronson School of Nursing. The School Policy Statement is prepared, revised, and shall operate in accordance with the current Agreement between Western Michigan University and the Western/WMU-AAUP chapter.

Commented [NM1]: These two sections reflect "policy creep". DPS are not intended by the Agreement to affect "faculty productivity", nor to detail "the structure and operating procedures" per se, except as they are described as a means toward the goal of articulating the procedures by which recommendations are made on specific contractually-authorized content.

Technically, I would like to see these phrases reworded or deleted in order to have alignment with the purposes and directives of the Agreement, as articulated in 23.2 and 23.3.

Sabbatical Leave

A. General

Sabbatical leaves are intended to promote professional growth of faculty and to enhance scholarship and teaching effectiveness. Such leaves contribute to these ends by enabling faculty to undertake specific planned activities involving research, scholarship, and creative work of mutual benefit to the faculty, the School, the College, the University, the Community, and the discipline and profession of Nursing. Sabbaticals are for one or two semesters per the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 26).

B. Eligibility

1. Eligibility for sabbatical leave shall be consistent with the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement.

2. The Promotion and Tenure Committee assumes the responsibility of considering sabbatical applications.

3. The Promotion and Tenure Committee shall consider each application on its merits, in terms of projected benefits for the individual, the School, the College, The University, and the Community, as well as the prospect of success of the sabbatical. More specifically, the committee will consider the following:

   a. The proposal’s merit in its own right.
   b. The proposal’s merit for the individual.
   c. The benefits to the School and to the Discipline of Nursing.

4. All sabbatical applications and committee recommendations will be forwarded to the Director.
A. Intent.

The Bronson School of Nursing faculty, in pursuit of excellence in education, research, and practice, recommend that workloads of the School be viewed as encompassing many professional duties and responsibilities, including but not limited to:

1. Teaching and/or providing instructional support in a variety of manners and settings;
2. Serving on committees (department, college, university);
3. Supervising nursing practice experiences for students;
4. Coordinating nursing courses or levels;
5. Advising and mentoring students;
6. Directing and engaging in research, publication, and other scholarly activities;
7. Fulfilling ongoing departmental needs of both a maintenance and developmental nature;
8. Supporting the proper and efficient functioning of the college and university as a whole by performing committee work, by providing consultation to the University and its communities, and by participation in a variety of other relevant activities; and
9. Contributing to the operations of professional nursing associations/accrediting bodies at the international, national, state, and regional levels.

B. The Bronson School of Nursing faculty recommend the following principles be used in determining workload:

1. For bargaining unit faculty who are not faculty specialists, the maximum full-time faculty workload shall be twenty-four (24) credit hours of regularly scheduled courses in any one (1) academic or alternate-academic year, or six (6) credit hours in the Summer I or Summer II sessions. It shall be possible, by mutual agreement, to balance out fewer than twelve (12) credit hours (or equivalent work assignment) in one semester with more than twelve (12) credit hours (or equivalent work assignment) in another semester (Article 42.4). For faculty specialists, the maximum full-time workload shall conform to the provisions of Article 20.2.3, Faculty Specialist, of thirty (30) credit hours per academic or alternate-academic year.
2. Faculty supervision of pre-licensure students will comply with the Michigan Board of Nursing regulations. The indirect supervision of RN-BSN students is recommended to be no greater than 16 students per 1 faculty.

3. Faculty supervisory responsibilities of students in nursing practice include direct and indirect supervision of client care.

4. The ratio of faculty in a laboratory/skills section of a course will be no less than 1 faculty to 16 pre-professional and RN-BSN students and RN-BSN students.

5. Responsibilities for supportive assignments such as advising, department, College, and University work shall be assumed by individual faculty members. The Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement provides that each faculty member may be assigned up to 20 advisees, without workload adjustment (Article 42.9.1).

6. A faculty member who perceives that her/his workload exceeds the recommended parameters set forth in this policy statement shall have the right to appeal. The procedure of appeal is stated in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 42.10.1).

7. Workload assignments should be made in advance of the submission of the course schedule of classes to the registrar’s office, in order to allow discussion between the faculty and the Director as defined in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 42.15).

8. Additional Professional Responsibilities. Additionally, it is recommended that faculty members who support the proper and efficient functioning of professional societies as a whole in leadership roles, editorial work, conference organization, or board work may be considered for workload adjustments by the Director.

9. Faculty who are engaged in scholarly activities as defined in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 42.5, 42.5.1) may be considered for workload adjustments by the Director.

10. WMU Bronson School of Nursing Workload Calculation Proposal:

The following are guidelines for faculty workload assignments in the WMU Bronson School of Nursing:

a. Didactic (theory) credits should be assigned workload units in a 1:1 ratio for all courses taught within the School of Nursing.

b. Clinical (practice) credits should be assigned workload units in a 1:2 ratio. For example, a six hour clinical day (2 credit hours) results in a 4 unit workload.

c. Other

   i. Writing intensive courses as defined by university guidelines should be given 1.5 credits per section of didactic (e.g. a total of 4.5 units for a 3 credit course).
ii. Scholarly activity units should be allocated for traditional tenure/tenure track faculty in negotiation with the director based upon evidence of measurable progress in a program of scholarship.

iii. Course preparation of 1 unit should be allocated for first time teaching of any course.

iv. Course development units should be allocated in negotiation with the director based on the complexity of course. The general formula should be not less than 1 unit per course.

v. Course coordination units should be given for courses with multiple labs/clinical sections. The general formula should not be less than 1 work unit per course (not per section of a course) with multiple labs/clinical sections.

vi. Clinical coordination units should be given for courses that include a clinical component. The general formula should not be less than 1 work unit per clinical course. Clinical coordinators who orient and supervise new clinical faculty (adjunct or otherwise) may negotiate additional workload.

vii. Professional Competence workload units should be allocated for developing or maintaining competence required for assigned responsibilities directly related to the WMU Bronson School of Nursing upon negotiation with the director.

viii. MSN Thesis/Project Committees
   a. It is recommended that chairpersons be allocated 0.5 work load unit per student thesis/project per semester (typically 3 semesters duration per MSN thesis/project).
   b. It is recommended that other committee members receive 0.5 workload unit per student thesis/project for the semester during which the thesis/project is defended.

ix. MSN mentor teacher should receive one credit hour per MSN student only in the semester of the Clinical Practicum.

x. Lee Honors College thesis chairs should receive 0.5 workload units per student for the semester during which the thesis is defended.

Summer and EUP workload

Equitable distribution of opportunities to teach summer, and Extended University Programs

A. No board appointed member on academic year appointment shall be required to teach during summer sessions and no bargaining unit faculty member on alternate academic appointment shall be required to teach in their alternate semester.

B. The following recommendations should serve as a guide in determining faculty teaching assignments in the summer sessions, as well as Extended University Programs:

1. Bargaining unit faculty have preferences for teaching summer sessions as stated in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement (Article 41.1). Unit faculty have priority over part-time or graduate assistants for up to 6 credit hours of summer teaching. Moreover, summer classes will be distributed equitably among unit faculty as per the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement.

2. The program needs of the School shall be the primary consideration.

3. Teaching preferences of individual faculty members as communicated in writing to the Director shall be the second consideration.

4. Summer and Extended University Programs will be reviewed by the appropriate School and College Committees in order to make recommendations to the Director.

5. Recommendations to the Director regarding specific courses and/or faculty teaching assignments shall emanate from the course coordinator.

6. The final schedule of summer and extended university programs shall be presented to faculty prior to its final submission for inclusion in the university’s schedule of classes.

7. Faculty should be informed of their projected teaching assignments for the school year before the beginning of the academic year.

8. Faculty are limited to the number of EUP courses in addition to the regular workload as stipulated in the Western/WMU-AAUP Agreement.

C. In order to ensure equity among faculty in the assignment of teaching responsibilities in summer, and extended university programs, the faculty recommends that:

1. A rotation of assignments for summer teaching will be instituted taking into account faculty preferences, previous summer workload and competency. A list will be compiled ensuring that faculty have equal access to summer courses.

2. Full time board appointed faculty who did not work full-time in either the summer sessions of the preceding year and who were employed by WMU at that time shall be given first priority for appointment in the summer sessions.
