

Wanted: Leaders from the next generation of behavior analysts

Brown Bag Lunch with Dr. Jane Howard

Friday, November 7th @
12:30 PM

Wood Hall 1509

More preparation and focus is needed to train leaders from current and future generations who can operate effectively advocate for our science in public and private sectors . Ways for young professionals to become involved, the value of such experiences, and ideas about the critical role this activity plays in the future of behavior analysis will be discussed. The training, background, and skills needed by those in these leadership positions will be discussed.

CEU's will be available