THE LAWRENCE ZIRING MEMORIAL GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP

This award, intended for graduate students of political science, was established in memory of Dr. Lawrence Ziring by his family and friends. Dr. Ziring taught at WMU from 1967 until his retirement in 2004. An expert on Pakistan, he served as director of the Master in Development Administration (now MIDA) program from 1995 until his retirement.

Criteria

1. The awardee shall be a graduate student in the Department of Political Science with a record of strong academic success.

2. Preference will be given to:
   • students in the MIDA program and/or studying comparative politics;
   • international students;
   • students with demonstrated financial need.

3. The scholarship selection committee shall be the standing selection committee in the Department of Political Science.
