

Bronwen Taylor

Vice President, Compliance and Risk Management

Bronwen Taylor became vice president, compliance and risk management, in August 2013.

As vice president, compliance and risk management, Bronwen is responsible for the coordination of our compliance programs and liability-avoidance efforts worldwide.

Bronwen joined Stryker in March 2000 as chief financial officer for our operations in the South Pacific. She subsequently served as vice president and chief financial officer and as director of operations for South Pacific. She relocated to Kalamazoo in January 2006 to become our first chief compliance officer. In 2007, Bronwen became vice president of internal audit and compliance, and in 2010 she moved to Newbury, United Kingdom, to become vice president, chief financial officer for our European commercial operations.

In 2018, Bronwen received the PwC Award for Leadership in the Advancement of Ethics in the Medical Device Industry.

Prior to joining Stryker, Bronwen held senior finance positions with financial services and global mining companies in Australia. She started her career as an accountant with Coopers & Lybrand (now PricewaterhouseCoopers) and held various positions in the firm's Australian and United Kingdom locations.

She holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from the Queensland University of Technology and an MBA from Monash University. She is also a fellow of the Chartered Accountants Australia New Zealand.
