SEMINAR: SUMMER MUSIC CAMP

Seminar is a high school summer music camp designed to promote artistic, social, recreational and cultural interaction among serious young musicians. Students participate in daily group and individual music lessons with WMU’s world-class faculty members. Camp attendees also participate in ensembles, elective classes, performances, private lessons and cultural, social, and recreational activities. Selected WMU music students have the opportunity to develop their educational skills by serving as Seminar camp counselors and supervising attendees in the residence halls.
