

The nonprofit sector in the United States comprises 1.5 million organizations with an economic impact of over one trillion dollars. As the nonprofit's lifeblood, volunteerism constitutes 8.7 billion hours of donated time from 25.3 percent of the adults. Reflecting on her deep involvement in the nonprofit sector, Ms. Judy Huth will highlight the current trends in voluntarism and discuss how it has shaped and impacted the way the American culture evolves.

Please join us in learning about the nonprofit sector and voluntarism as Judy relates them with public service.

Voluntarism and Its Impact on the American Culture

Judy Huth

Board President, Colleagues International

Judy Huth began her career with the Upjohn Company (later Pharmacia) in 1974, holding a wide variety of positions throughout her 30-year tenure. She retired from her role as the Senior Director of Business Systems at Pharmacia and began as a nonprofit leader—first as the Executive Director of the Volunteer Center of Greater Kalamazoo with simultaneous involvement at the Arcadia Institute and United Way. She currently serves as the President of the Board of Directors at Colleagues International.

Ms. Huth is a 1979 alumna of the Master of Public Administration program at SPAA.
