Department of Economics
Masters Student

Where were you born?

I was born in a small province called Phra Nakhon in Thailand.

What is your favorite food?

I love all kinds of food, but my favorite would have to be Indian or Thai.

Where did you complete your undergraduate degree?

I completed my undergraduate degree at Kalamazoo College with a major in Economics.

Why are you interested in Economics?

I like that economics teaches me how to observe different patterns and trends happening around us, quantify them and then study the cause and effects. Additionally, the fact that it can be applied to so many different disciplines makes it an evergreen and fun learning environment to be in.

What made you choose WMU for graduate school?

The department was very welcoming to me when I first showed interest in starting my Master's, which was a huge plus. They have continued to show support to me even when I was struggling to do my best. Coming here also gave me the opportunity to meet so many interesting people with such great stories and backgrounds from so many different countries, which is very cool to me.

What do you hope to do with your career after you graduate?

I hope to work in positions that allow me to engage in educational and health economics. I believe that working in these fields will enable me to help communities realize sustainable economic growth and prosperity.

What is your favorite sport?

I love all sport (beside golf), so it is hard to pick one. Soccer is usually my favorite, but currently, I would love to improve my skills in tennis and rock climbing.
