Race and Ethnic Relations Minor

(18 Credit Hours)

Requirements

1. Students may elect only two courses from their major area of study for credit toward this minor.
2. Students must complete two mandatory courses: LWIR 3000—Immigration, Race and Ethnic Relations in the United States and LWIR 4000—Research in Race and Ethnic Relations. Students may complete the remaining 12 credits needed for the minor from an approved list, or select a different course with the consent of the director.
3. Students must complete 18 credit hours from an approved list of courses with a grade of “C” or better in each class. Courses must be chosen from at least two different departments. In addition to LWIR 4000, at least one other course must be at the 4000 level.
4. Students selecting this minor can package, in consultation with the department advisor, a series of courses to meet specific intellectual needs or interests. To schedule a consultation with the department advisor, please call the Lewis Walker Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnic Relations at (269) 387-2141.
