

PROPOSAL: Create the Graduate Certificate Program in Global Leadership and Learning

Background

The Graduate Studies Council of the Faculty Senate has approved the creation of the Graduate Certificate Program in Global Leadership and Learning offered by the Department of Educational Leadership, Research, and Technology in the College of Education and Human Development.

We propose to create a new graduate certificate in global leadership and learning. Although we currently offer an MA degree in this area of study, this new program will utilize existing courses within the department to allow students to compliment a graduate degree major area of focus by adding this certificate instead of completing an additional graduate degree. This graduate certificate program will focus on the study of global leadership and organizational and individual learning to support students' future educational and career goals. As this graduate certificate will include previously existing courses within the department, there will be no need to create additional new courses.
