RICHARD RAWLINSON CENTER SERIES

The Richard Rawlinson Center for Anglo-Saxon Studies and Manuscript Research at Western Michigan University fosters teaching and research in medieval England and in the broader field of manuscript studies.

Proposals Welcome
The Richard Rawlinson Center’s Editorial Board welcomes proposals for monographs and essay collections on Old English texts and on the, material culture, and art history of early medieval England, as well as innovative, interdisciplinary approaches to the literature and culture of the period.

Publishing with MIP
MIP’s series use literary, historical, and material sources and employ innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to explore what it has meant to be human through the ages. Focusing on the late antique, medieval, and early modern periods, our publications explore such topics as popular culture; the human experience; media, materiality, and otherness; literature and literary culture; art, music, and drama; and religion and spirituality.

MIP offers rapid turn-around times, the newest digital policies, and global distribution. Books are distributed worldwide through our publishing partner, De Gruyter.

NEW AND FORTHCOMING BOOKS IN THE SERIES

Kate Thomas, Late Anglo-Saxon Prayer Programs in Practice: Before Books of Hours (2020)
