Monsters, Prodigies, and Demons: Medieval and Early Modern Constructions of Alterity is dedicated to the study of monstrosity and alterity in the medieval and early modern world, and to the investigation of cultural constructions of otherness, abnormality and difference from a wide range of perspectives.

Geographical Scope
Global

Chronological Scope
Medieval, Renaissance, and Early Modern

Keywords: monsters, monstrosity, supernatural, alterity, otherness, hybridity, disability studies, grotesque, race studies, whiteness studies, colonial studies, history of emotions

Proposals Welcome
We welcome monographs from established and early career researchers, collections of thematic essays, scholarly editions, and translations with substantial introductions and apparatus.

Further Information
To submit a proposal or completed manuscript to be considered for publication by Medieval Institute Publications or to learn more about the series, contact the Acquisitions Editor, Ilse Schweitzer VanDonkelaar (ilse.s.vand@gmail.com), or visit our website: wmich.edu/medievalpublications/books/monsters-prodigies-demons

Publishing with MIP
MIP’s series use literary, historical, and material sources and employ innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to explore what it has meant to be human through the ages. Focusing on the late antique, medieval, and early modern periods, our publications explore such topics as popular culture; the human experience; media, materiality, and otherness; literature and literary culture; art, music, and drama; and religion and spirituality.

MIP offers rapid turn-around times, the newest digital policies, and global distribution. Books are distributed worldwide through our publishing partner, De Gruyter.