PREMODERN TRANSGRESSIVE LITERATURES

Premodern Transgressive Literatures takes a decisively political, intersectional, and interdisciplinary approach to medieval and early modern literature. The series supports scholarship which transgresses normative bounds along various axes. This includes the transgression of temporal boundaries which superficially separate the premodern era from our twenty-first century moment. We aim to show, with insistent urgency, the ways in which the premodern can help us make sense of the modern, and the ways in which cutting-edge modern paradigms can help us better understand established, canonical premodern texts. This series is acutely aware of the role of the scholar in the production of history and the crucial importance of the context of scholarly work: the Academy, with its unique characteristics, both positive and negative. As such, Premodern Transgressive Literatures makes space for provocative discussion about the business of producing—and teaching—transgressive work in the neo-liberalized Academy.

Geographical Scope
Global

Chronological Scope
Medieval and early modern

Keywords: intersectionality, interdisciplinary, literature, culture, medieval, early modern, pedagogy

Further Information
For questions or to submit a proposal, please contact the acquisitions editor, Shannon Cunningham (shannon@smcunningham.com) or visit our website: wmich.edu/medievalpublications/books/premodern-transgressive-literatures

Publishing with MIP
Books published with Medieval Institute Publications use literary, historical, and material sources and employ innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to what it has meant to be human through the ages. We value a diverse array of established and new voices in humanities research.

MIP offers rapid turn-around times, the newest digital policies, and global distribution. Books are distributed worldwide through our publishing partner, De Gruyter.

SERIES EDITOR
ALICIA SPENCER-HALL
Queen Mary, University of London, UK

SERIES BOARD
BLAKE GUTT
University of Michigan, USA
CARISSA HARRIS
Temple University, USA
JONATHAN HSY
George Washington University, USA
ROBERTA MAGNANI
Swansea University, UK
ELIZABETH ROBERTSON
University of Glasgow, UK

FORTHCOMING BOOKS IN THE SERIES
Jes Battis, Thinking Queerly: Medievalism, Wizardry, and Neurodiversity in Young Adult Texts (forthcoming)

Leiden, University Library, 583, printed work (16th century) with medieval fragments inside (12th century). Photo by Erik Kwakkel. (CC BY 4.0)