TEAMS MEDIEVAL TEXTUAL CULTURES OF CENTRAL AND SOUTHEAST EUROPE

Medieval Institute Publications publishes the Commentary Series in partnership with the Teaching Association for Medieval Studies (TEAMS).

TEAMS was originally founded as a committee of the Medieval Academy of America to develop new ways to support the teaching activities of its members. It was later reorganized as an independent nonprofit educational corporation whose mission continues to be the support of teaching in medieval studies at the undergraduate, secondary and elementary school level through the provision of resources and the sharing of techniques.

Proposals Welcome
The Medieval Textual Cultures of Central and Southeast Europe is a peer-reviewed series that publishes modern English translations of medieval texts of diverse genres and content that focus on central and southeastern European lands in order to promote and make teaching and research of this region accessible to wider audiences. By making primary sources available and properly contextualized in contemporary academic discourse for use in the classroom and in research for medievalists working in a range of disciplines and linguistic traditions, the series strives to fill an important gap in the cohesive study of medieval European Latinity and related Slavonic traditions of Central and Southeast Europe.

In addition to an annotated English translation of a primary source, each volume of the series contains a critical introduction that provides relevant cultural and historical background, a balanced and inclusive overview of the state of scholarship about the published text, and select bibliography for further reading. In most cases, annotated English translations are accompanied by parallel original texts copied from a manuscript or a published edition, usually without full scholarly apparatus.

Further Information
Proposals or completed manuscripts to be considered for publication should be sent to Tyler Cloherty (tylercloherty44@gmail.com), acquisitions editor for the series, or to the series editor, Julia Verkholantsev (juliaver@rsas.upenn.edu), University of Pennsylvania.

Publishing with MIP
MIP’s series use literary, historical, and material sources and employ innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to explore what it has meant to be human through the ages. MIP offers rapid turn-around times, the newest digital policies, and global distribution. TEAMS books can be purchased through our distributor, ISD (isdistribution.com).