TEAMS MIDDLE ENGLISH TEXTS SERIES

Medieval Institute Publications publishes the Middle English Texts Series in partnership with the Teaching Association for Medieval Studies (TEAMS).

TEAMS was originally founded as a committee of the Medieval Academy of America to develop new ways to support the teaching activities of its members. It was later reorganized as an independent nonprofit educational corporation whose mission continues to be the support of teaching in medieval studies at the undergraduate, secondary and elementary school level through the provision of resources and the sharing of techniques.

Proposals Welcome
The goal of the Middle English Texts Series is to make available to teachers and students texts which occupy an important place in the literary and cultural canon but which have not been readily available in student editions. The focus is on literature adjacent to that normally in print, which teachers need in compiling the syllabuses they wish to teach. The editions include glosses of difficult words and short introductions on the history of the work, its merits, points of topical interest and brief bibliographies.

Further Information
Proposals or completed manuscripts to be considered for publication should be sent to Tyler Cloherty (tylercloherty44@gmail.com), acquisitions editor for the series, and to the series editor, Russell Peck (russell.peck@rochester.edu), University of Rochester.

Publishing with MIP
MIP’s series use literary, historical, and material sources and employ innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to explore what it has meant to be human through the ages. Focusing on the late antique, medieval, and early modern periods, our publications explore such topics as popular culture; the human experience; media, materiality, and otherness; literature and literary culture; art, music, and drama; and religion and spirituality.

MIP offers rapid turn-around times, the newest digital policies, and global distribution. TEAMS books can be purchased through our distributor, ISD (isdistribution.com).
