TEAMS MEDIEVAL MUSIC IN CONTEXT

Medieval Institute Publications publishes the Commentary Series in partnership with the Teaching Association for Medieval Studies (TEAMS). TEAMS was originally founded as a committee of the Medieval Academy of America to develop new ways to support the teaching activities of its members. It was later reorganized as an independent nonprofit educational corporation whose mission continues to be the support of teaching in medieval studies at the undergraduate, secondary and elementary school level through the provision of resources and the sharing of techniques.

Proposals Welcome
The Medieval Music in Context series seeks to publish editions, translations, and studies of medieval music-theoretical treatises and literary texts with significant musical engagements, including works of poetry and prose with embedded music (notated or unnotated). The volumes are designed for classroom use in, e.g., music history, music theory, literature, and medieval studies courses, while still offering contributions useful for more specialized research. The series encourages a global reach and is intended to encompass texts and musical traditions in Latin and European vernaculars, Byzantine Greek, Hebrew, Arabic, and Persian.

Further Information
Proposals or completed manuscripts to be considered for publication should be sent to Tyler Cloherty (tylercloherty44@gmail.com), acquisitions editor for the series, or to the series editor, Andrew Hicks (ajh299@cornell.edu), Associate Professor of Music and Medieval Studies, Cornell University.

Publishing with MIP
MIP’s series use literary, historical, and material sources and employ innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to explore what it has meant to be human through the ages. Focusing on the late antique, medieval, and early modern periods, our publications explore such topics as popular culture; the human experience; media, materiality, and otherness; literature and literary culture; art, music, and drama; and religion and spirituality.

MIP offers rapid turn-around times, the newest digital policies, and global distribution. TEAMS books can be purchased through our distributor, ISD (isdistribution.com).
