

Japan: People, Society, Tradition and its Relations with the US

Yusuke Shindo, Consul General of Japan

3:30 - 4:30 pm

Tuesday, October 4, 2022

Room 1920, Sangren Hall

Free and open to the public

Japan, being an island country, is geographically isolated from the rest of the world and hence has developed a very unique culture and tradition. Relatively crowded conditions make Japanese people value harmony, humility, and respect. The US has consistently been the most important and popular country for Japan.

Yusuke Shindo, a career diplomat of Japan, joined the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Japan in 1986. At the headquarters of the Foreign Ministry, he was, among others, in charge of economic development assistance, trade negotiations, climate change and arms control. He served several overseas postings such as Saudi Arabia, Germany, Los Angeles, Indonesia, Geneva and Pakistan. In July of 2021, he moved to Michigan from Pakistan as Consul General of Japan in Detroit.
