“Essay Contest Winners on Making Ethics Vital”

4 p.m. Tuesday, January 22
211 Bernhard Center, WMU

Mitchell Winget
Graduate student, Department of Philosophy

Arthur Woodworth
Pre-engineering major, College of Engineering and Applied Sciences

Moderator: Paul Farber
Department of Teaching, Learning and Educational Studies

Winners in the graduate and undergraduate categories of the Ethics Center’s essay contest discuss their papers. Winget’s paper is titled “A Realistic Approach to Ethical Responsibility.” Woodworth’s paper is titled “Making Ethics Vital.”

The theme for the papers was the center’s new vision statement, “Dedicated to making ethics vital in our communities.” Each winner received a $500 prize. Light refreshments will be served.

Free and open to the public.
