“Essay Contest Winners on Making Ethics Vital”
Mitchell Winget, graduate student, Philosophy, and Arthur Woodworth, pre-engineering major, College of Engineering and Applied Sciences, WMU
4 p.m. January 22, 211 Bernhard Center

“Does Community-Wide Public Health Prevention Work? From Reducing Teen Births to Addressing Today’s Opioid Epidemic”
Ron A. Cisler, Dean, College of Health and Human Services, WMU
6 p.m. January 29, 157-158 Bernhard Center

“Engaging Communities in Difficult Conversations: Dialogue, Deliberation, and Engaged Scholarship”
Laura Black, Associate Professor, Communication Studies, Ohio University
5 p.m. February 6, 1028 Brown Hall

“Making People Better: Saving Us from Ourselves through Moral Enhancement”
Parker Crutchfield, Associate Professor, Medical Humanities, Ethics and Law, WMU Homer Stryker M.D. School of Medicine
6:30 p.m. February 12, 211 Bernhard Center

“Should Politicians Be Anxious?”
Charlie Kurth, Associate Professor, Philosophy, WMU
6 p.m. March 12, 211 Bernhard Center

“Social Media and Mass Violence”
Winnie Veenstra Peace Lecture
Susan Benesch, Director, Dangerous Speech Project
6 p.m. March 25, Brown & Gold Room, Bernhard Center