Leo S. Rayl Scholarship

Fulltime undergraduate students with a 3.0 GPA or better who are enrolled in

Full time undergraduate students with a 3.0 GPA or better who are enrolled in Industrial and Entrepreneurial Engineering & Engineering Management program are invited to apply. Students should demonstrate financial need by filing a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) at www.fafsa.ed.gov in addition to the Rayl Scholarship Application materials.

Dr. Leo S. Rayl taught Industrial Engineering courses at WMU for many years. He specialized in industrial processes with a particular interest in safety. The scholarship fund was established in 2005 and is intended to aid students in need. Dr. Rayl was particularly interested in students who hold employment while attending school.

The award is for $500 per year, payable in two installments once in the fall and once in the spring terms. Students may re-apply for the scholarship, but must make satisfactory progress toward their degrees to remain eligible.

To apply for this scholarship, you must submit (1) a completed application, (2) a recommendation letter, and (3) a resume. The Scholarship committee may interview top candidates for the final selection. Submit application by March 15 to:
