

Flowchart for Department of Teaching, Learning, and Educational Studies
 Socio-Cultural Studies of Education
 Master of Arts in Education Foundations

Narrative for Department of Teaching, Learning, and Educational Studies Socio-Cultural Studies – Master's Program

1. Obtain Admission to the Program

2. Faculty Advisor Assigned

3. Complete Prerequisites if Applicable

4. Complete 27 credit hours of coursework including:

Teaching, Learning, and Educational Studies Core (9 hrs.):

- ED 6010: Introduction to Research in Educational Settings (3 hours)
- ES 6330: Education and Human Flourishing (3 hours)
- ES 6340: Culture and Politics in Educational Institutions (3 hours)

Concentration of Study (12 hrs. from the following suggested courses or other approved courses that relate to your concentration):

- ES 6030: Social and Philosophical Foundations (3 hours)
- ES 6290: Culture and Schooling (3 hours)
- ES 6300: History of Education in the United States (3 hours)
- ES 6310: International and Comparative Education (3 hours)
- ES 6730: Class, Ethnicity, and Gender in Education (3 hours)
- ES 6750: Multicultural Education (3 hours)
- ES 5850: Social Justice and Community Organizing (3 hours)
- ED 6020: School Curriculum (3 hours)
- ED 6280: Curriculum Theory (3 hours)

Electives (6 hrs.):

(Advisor-approved graduate courses, normally from outside the department, which support a particular scholarly interest.)

Note: Six months prior to completion of capstone work, the student must submit an application for a graduation audit. Click here for the application form.

5. Complete Master's Thesis or Capstone Research Project option:

A. Master's Thesis (6 hours):

- Begin ED 7000: Master's Thesis
- Submit the Notification of Appointment to Thesis Committee Form to the Graduate College
- Present the Thesis Proposal
- Submit Thesis Proposal Approval Form
- Obtain HSIRB Approval (if required)
- Defend the Thesis
- Submit the Thesis Approval form to the Graduate College
- Submit "Theses/Specialist Project Submission Check-In Form"

B. Capstone Research Project (3 hours):

- Begin 3 hours of ED 6790: Capstone Research Project
- Obtain HSIRB Approval (if Required)
- Submit the Completed Project to the Department and receive Final Approval

6. Graduation

