

J-1 Student: Academic Training Application and Instructions

Academic Training (AT) is flexible in its format and offers a variety of training situations to supplement your academic program in the U.S. as a J-1 student. It is available before completion of your program of study, as well as afterwards. J-1 students in non-degree programs are also eligible for academic training. Prior written authorization by an advisor in International Student and Scholar Services (I3S) is required. An educational affiliation agreement may be requested.

CONDITIONS

1. Your primary purpose in the U.S. must be study rather than academic training.
2. You must be in good academic standing.
3. The proposed training must be directly related to your major field of study.
4. Throughout your AT you must maintain permission to stay in the U.S., in J-1 student status, and apply for extensions as necessary.
5. You must maintain health insurance coverage for yourself and any J-2 dependents throughout your AT.
6. AT must be approved prior to graduation or the end date on your DS-2019, whichever is sooner. For those currently on AT, new AT must be approved prior to the completion of the initial AT approval.

LIMITATIONS

1. Your academic training may be authorized for the length of time necessary to complete the goals and objectives of the training, provided that the amount of time is approved by both the academic advisor and I3S. It may not exceed the period of full course of study or 18 months, whichever is shorter. You only receive up to 18 months of AT at the pre-doctorate level, so plan accordingly. If you receive a Ph.D., you may receive an additional 18 months for a total of 36 months. Additional academic training beyond the limit may be allowed only if it is required for the degree.
2. Part-time authorization for AT still counts as full-time authorization.
3. You may have multiple training locations only if you have submitted an AT application and received approval for each one, in advance. Academic training is very specific and details are entered into SEVIS.

ACADEMIC TRAINING AFTER COMPLETION OF YOUR PROGRAM OF STUDY

1. Important! You must obtain a written approval of appropriate training and present a copy to I3S prior to your program completion date (or before your DS-2019 end date, whichever is earlier) or you will lose eligibility for AT after your completion of study.

2. Academic training following completion of your program of study must be a paid position, unless you can verify adequate financial support during the terms of AT.
3. Post-Completion Academic Training applications do require a $150 WMU visa service fee at the time of application (initial, or extension). Check should be made payable to Western Michigan University.
