Western Michigan University invites applications and nominations for the position of Faculty Specialist II in the Department of Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences. The ideal candidate is a person who displays strong leadership skills in clinical education and innovative clinical program development. The primary responsibilities of the position will be related to clinical education. This is a tenure-track, full-time, fiscal-year (12-months) position, with an expected start date of May 1, 2020.

Primary Responsibilities:

- Clinical coordination
- Clinical supervision of undergraduate and/or graduate students
- Interprofessional collaboration
- Innovative clinical program development
- Direct service provision

Minimum Qualifications:

- Master’s degree in speech-language pathology
- Eligible for Michigan licensure for Speech-Language Pathology
- Clinical certification from ASHA (CCC-SLP)
- 6 years of clinical experience, with at least 2 years of experience in clinical education/supervision

Desired Qualifications:

- Experience working with diverse student and client populations
- Experience developing and implementing community outreach programs
- Experience in school-based services, assessment and treatment
- Interprofessional collaboration for clinical program development (such as aural rehabilitation, dysphagia, early intervention and fluency)
- Interest in bridging research and practice

Required Applicant Documents:

- Cover letter highlighting your qualifications, accomplishments, and professional experiences related to the position
- Curriculum Vitae
- Three references: Names, titles, postal and e-mail addresses, and telephone numbers
Additional Position Information:

The University: Western Michigan University, a learner centered, discovery driven and globally engaged public research university, enrolls more than 23,000 students from 100 nations around the globe. WMU has been designated by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching as one of just 147 public institutions in the nation with high or very high research activity.

The College: The College of Health and Human Services is located in a 195,000 square foot building with state-of-the-art teaching technologies and spacious research laboratories. The college enrolls nearly 3,000 students, with more than a third of those at the graduate level. In addition to the Department of Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences, the college includes programs in blindness and low vision studies, nursing, occupational therapy, physician assistant, social work, holistic health care, alcohol and drug abuse, interdisciplinary health services, public health, physical therapy and a Ph.D. in Interdisciplinary Health Sciences. The college has received several grants from the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), and the Department of Education. The college also operates the Unified Clinics, a multidisciplinary service/training clinic. Learn more about our growing college at http://www.wmich.edu/hhs.

The Department: Both the speech-language pathology and audiology programs are ranked in the top 50 programs nationwide. The Department of Speech, Language, and Hearing Sciences enrolls approximately 60 students in the two-year M.A. program in speech-language pathology, 24 students in the doctoral (AuD) program in audiology, 130 undergraduate majors and supports a minor in American Sign Language. Department of Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences faculty are engaged in active research with students, classroom and clinical teaching through the on-campus Van Riper Language, Speech, and Hearing Clinics, and service to the university and professions. The Department is engaged in ongoing assessment activities and strategic planning to align with the College of Health and Human Services, University and Academic Affairs strategic plans. The Department is accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (CAA) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA). Opportunities exist for interprofessional collaborations within the College, across the University, and with the Western Michigan University School of Medicine.

Salary: Competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, with an excellent benefits package.

Expected Start Date: May 1, 2020

To Apply: Review of applications will begin on Dec 9, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Please visit http://wmich.edu/hr/jobs, posting #0605234, for detailed information and application procedures.
Co-Chairs of the search committee:
Suma Devanga, Ph.D.  suma.devanga@wmich.edu
Yvette Hyter, Ph.D.  yvette.hyter@wmich.edu

Go To www.wmich.edu/hr/faculty for benefit and other information

WMU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Minorities, women, veterans, individuals with disabilities and all other qualified individuals are encouraged to apply.